

Additional Rebozo Workshop to Deepen & Hone Your Closing the Bones Work

Includes Mexican Rebozo Massage Techniques for Arms, Legs & Head (not taught in my 4-day trainings), A Journey Through The Global Variety of Cerrada-Ceremonies & An In-Depth Look Into How Rebozos Are Woven

Monday 26 August 2024, 10am to 6pm (Bank Holiday Monday)

On the beautiful “Unesco World Heritage” Isle of Portland on Dorset’s Jurassic Coast

Location: 5 Ventnor Road, Fortuneswell, Isle of Portland, DORSET, DT5 1JE, UK

 ALLERGIES !! Our host Puran Arianna has a cat, the lovely Rosie. If you are allergic to cats, this might not be the right place for you to train.*

Have you followed any in-person (2-day, 4-day or 7-day) Closing the Bones & Deeper into Closing the Bones training with myself or Sophie Messenger in the past? And do you want to deepen your knowledge of this marvellous work, learn further techniques, and spend a day in sisterhood with other bone closers to also learn from each others’ experiences and share with? Then I’d love to welcome you to a very special day in which Rebozos take central stage.

Before noon I'm taking you with me on a journey to Latin-America (with focus on Mexico). Firstly we'll watch some videos of/with Latin-American (mainly Mexican) traditional midwives about the history of rebozos and the varied work done with them, as well as various videos showing variations of Cerrada-ceremonies – this way you will get a much wider mental framework around this beautiful work and more insight into where we position ourselves in the broader field of Cerrada-work. Next, I will tell you – assisted by pictures, videos, physical rebozos and a great amount of personal passion – about how rebozos are woven (and the differences between the weaving of open weaves, close weaves, deluxe rebozos, ...) and the tassels are knotted, how the (local Mexican) cotton is spun and coloured with plant materials, etc.

After lunch I will teach you an entirely new set of (Mexican) Rebozo techniques which can be easily and beautifully woven and integrated into your already existing Closing the Bones ceremonies or which you can also offer on their own.

These are techniques for the head, the arms and shoulders, the legs, hips and lower back. I teach these techniques also in my 7-day (40 hour) trainings (which I offer only once a year) but not in the newly normal 4-day / 30-hour format. I also teach you how these techniques work on the meridian system, and you'll get handouts to take home with you.

Participant numbers are consciously kept small – we have space for max. 8 participants.

I often get the question on whether babies or small children can come along for the training. As during this course we spend a lot of our time practising in pairs, babies would need to be put down and would get fed up and upset, and this would impair the learning for both the mother and the rest of the group. You are welcome to bring a breastfed baby if you can bring another adult with you who can take your baby out between feeding sessions.

Training Fee & How to Register

The training fee is £135 if you register (with at least 50% payment) before 31 May 2024 (EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT); after that the price goes up to £160.

This includes lunch, tea & snacks and handouts.

Lunch will be prepared with much love by our host Puran Arianna, and will always be vegan, gluten-free, mostly organic and seasonal, extremely yummy and nourishing.

You can register for this training day and secure your spot by paying a deposit of 50% upon booking, and pay the remaining 50% 3 weeks before the start of the training, i.e. 5 August 2024 – or pay the full amount if you register less than 3 weeks before the start (if you pay in a different currency, we will calculate the conversion each time when you are making a payment).

To register, please email me at japjeetkaur@shuniya-yoga.org and make payment into the following bank account quoting your name and “CtB day Portland”: Name: N.K. Bemong / Account nr. 31285092 / Sort code: 40-18-43 / HSBC.

Cancellation Policy

* Cancellations prior to 3 weeks before the start of the training – If you need to cancel for whatever reason and you can find someone to take your place, I will refund you your teaching fee minus 10% booking fee. If you cannot find someone to take your place, the initial 50% payment (i.e. the deposit) of the teaching fee will not be refunded, but the second 50% will be returned to you if you already paid in full.

* In the event of any later cancellation (within 3 weeks before the start of the training), all training fees are non-refundable.

If you are travelling from abroad, I strongly recommend you purchase appropriate travel insurance so you are covered in the event you are unable to attend due to personal or global circumstances.

Should the course need to be cancelled, all fees will of course be refunded, or you can use them towards a course offered elsewhere if you would prefer that option.

Venue, Accommodation Options & Getting Here

Venue

We will be hosted for this training by my dear friend Arianna Puran Moretti, who lives in Fortuneswell on Portland and will host us in her beautiful Victorian house, just a 10min. walk from Chesil Beach, and with easy access also from Weymouth on the mainland.

IMPORTANT: ALLERGIES !! Our host has a cat, the lovely Rosie. If you are allergic to cats, this might not be the right place for you to train.

Accommodation – both at the venue & elsewhere on Portland or in Weymouth

We have 2 rooms (one single bed, one double bed) available in Arianna's home in Fortuneswell (same house as where the training will take place) for people wanting to stay over the night before or after.

Do note that we are running a 4-day Women's Retreat here just the 4 days prior (Thursday to Sunday) so it might be that the rooms get booked up early for that, especially still including the Sunday night.

Price for room + breakfast + dinner (and lunch is already included in the training fee) is £70 per night for the single bedroom, or £80 for the double bedroom (single occupancy – you won't be sharing the room).

Do let us know asap if you want to book for this option, as these rooms quickly get booked.

Getting here by car

Simply follow the satnav instructions for the postcode – there is limited parking on the street, more at the end of the road.

Getting here by train or plane

The nearest train station is Weymouth station (on the mainland). From Weymouth you can take a bus or taxi to Portland – the venue for the training is located in Fortuneswell, which is the first village on the island, so easily accessible.

Weymouth station is on a direct line from London Waterloo station (a 3h15min train ride).

For people travelling from Europe, the Brussels-London Eurostar takes 2 hours and arrives in London St Pancras. From London St Pancras you want to give yourself around 30-45mins to reach London Waterloo station (and you'll likely need some extra time for passport checks since Brexit). But that gives you an idea about travel times and options.

The nearest airport is Bournemouth (BOH) airport, which is 31.7 miles away. Other nearby airports include Southampton (SOU – 55.6 miles away), Bristol (BRS – 60.2 miles away),

London Heathrow (LHR – 108.5 miles away) and London Gatwick (LGW – 109 miles away) – travelling on by train to Weymouth is easy from all those locations.

Purchasing your CtB tools

You'll also have the opportunity (before, during or after the training) to purchase Rebozos. You can already find them and pre-order on my webshop: <https://www.shuniya-yoga.org/shop/> - click further on Rebozos/Mantas).

For many years now I've been importing Mexican rebozos from various areas of Mexico, and I work together with different families and with weaver cooperatives that unite families of 3 generations of artisans making rebozos and other Mexican traditional clothing. This way we can ensure an honest pay for these artisan families whom for generations and generations have been practicing these traditional loom weaving techniques, and we also support local indigenous midwives by donating 10% of the purchase price to them. All rebozos I purchase are made from 100% Mexican-grown cotton, died locally with plant materials, and woven according to ancient traditions on pedal looms and back strap looms. (On my webshop you can find a video showing the weaving practices in much detail).
